CHELSEA

Judge Geo. L. Stow was in Randolph two days last week on probate matters.

Murray Bourne of Burlington came Saturday to spend a few days with friends.

Among those who are ill and have not been reported are Mrs. A. B. Smith, Mrs. Joel Peavey and Miss Mary Wells.

Dr. F. L. Beckwith left Saturday for Danville, where he will be engaged in dental work until February 1. He made the trip by train.

Arthur Taylor, who has worked several months for E. O. Mattson, has completed his term of service and gone to his home in Washington.

Alvah Bobonon, who has spent several months with relatives and friends in Washington and Chelsea, left Monday morning for his home in Eagle Grove, Iowa.

David Adams and wife of Athol, Mass., are in town for a few weeks, visiting friends, and are guests of Mr. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Adams.

Among the arrivals at the Orange County hotel Monday were George E. Clark of Wilton, Maine; John S. Harding, Vershire; J. M. Boyd, Royalton; F. P. Cullen, Boston.

Arthur Lord, who was hostler for B. H. Adams, Jr., through the month of December, since which time he has been in the employ of Fred Nelson of South Royalton, was in town Monday night.

B. H. Adams, Jr., left Monday afternoon on a week's business trip in view of purchasing horses and will attend the public sales this week in Boston and Lowell, Mass., and West Lebanon, N. H.

Chelsea grange is to hold its first annual ball in the town hall, Thursday night, Feb. 20, to which function the public is cordially invited. The Chelsea brass band orchestra of six pieces will be served in the grange hall.

George A. Skinner of Lowell, Mass., arrived Monday evening, being called here by the illness of his brother, Austin L. Skinner, who seems to be slowly recovering from the stroke of partial paralysis he sustained a week ago.

Miss Abbie Hemenway while visiting her sister, Mrs. Jules Alexander in Williamstown, recently slipped and fell to the ground and sustained a sprained hip and severe bruises, but fortunately no bones were broken.

Elmer E. Wallace, who has been the efficient janitor at the Congregational church for the past two years, has resigned his position in such capacity by reason of ill health, and the society has been fortunate enough to engage Wesley W. Underhill to take Mr. Wallace's place.

Miss Mabel Gray of Tisbury, closed a "successful term" of school in Barre, on Friday, the 29th inst. Raymond Moulton and Ralph DeLano were each absent three days on account of sickness. Verma Moulton and George DeLano were each absent one day; Carroll Carpenter was absent two half days, and Ralph O. Carpenter and Leonard A. Benner had no absent or tardy marks during the term, which has been their record throughout the year.

BETHEL

Alfred Abbott Got Dragged By Horse Recently.

Alfred Abbott had an accident with his horse recently and was dragged from the iron bridge to nearly opposite Mr. Miller's house, resulting in serious bruises about his face and hands and one broken rib.

Mrs. Young and her two sons have here this week for the south, where they will spend some time.

Mrs. Hattie Davis has gone to Salem, N. H., to spend a month with her son, R. E. Davis, and his family.

Mr. T. A. Chadwick is seriously ill with acute Bright's disease, and his condition occasions much concern.

District Deputy G. D. Burnham of Bethel recently installed the new officers of Bethel lodge, No. 35, L. O. O. F.

Miss Edna Martin and Josie Reed are assisting in the store of the Bethel dry goods company during their mark down sale.

The condition of Mrs. E. S. Wellington is greatly improved, she having been able to walk about the rooms for several days.

Miss Frances Holbert, traveling secretary for the Vermont Library commission was in town last week to meet the officers of the Bethel Free Library association.

A Lee Cady, who is D. G. M. in the Masonic order, has been making a tour of inspection to the Masonic lodges in the southern part of the state. J. A. Graham accompanied him.

The ball given at Bethel inn last week was a success in every way. Fully 75 couples were in attendance, twenty-eight couples of whom came from Rochester. Gilson's orchestra furnished the music and the night passed off most of the very fine music. The supper which was really a course dinner was given by Harry Emery and was an elaborate affair.

The officers of the Daniel Lillie Post, G. A. R., elected in December, are as follows for the coming year: Commandant, Albert Abbott; senior vice-commandant, Frank Lyman; junior vice-commandant, Martin Durkee; adjutant, J. A. Chadwick; chaplain, E. E. Cushman; quartermaster, P. P. Wynn; O. D., W. N. Kendall; Q. M. S., Alva Darts; E. E. Cushman and P. P. Wynn were elected delegates to the state encampment. The above officers were installed January 15.

Impossible Conditions.

A man who had not any legs implied that I would please; I figured him out pretty quickly. I gave him what I could spare and heard him gratefully explain that he would pay me back when he got on his feet again.

A blind man stopped me by the way. "Twice and to hear him read, and thank for the sight I had, I helped him in his need; 'A fortune I shall have,' said he. 'When uncle's will's recorded, And when I get it I will see. That you shall be rewarded.'"

KNOW IT WELL.

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Barre Citizens.

A familiar burden in every home. The burden of a "bad back."

A lame, a weak or an aching back. Tells you of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is Barre testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Frank Jones of 106 South Main street, Barre, Vt., says: "About five years ago I had such severe pains in my back that I could hardly get around the house. If I arose quickly after stooping I had spells of dizziness and dark spots before my eyes, while at night it was almost impossible for me to sleep. One day when my back ached so severely that I had to go around in a stooped position I was advised to get Doan's Kidney Pills at E. A. Drown's drug store. I procured a supply and commenced taking the remedy. In a few days I knew I was being benefited, for my back became stronger and better. I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until the pains in my back disappeared. I had no more dizziness since then, when I have overworked or taken cold, there have been recurrences of the trouble in a mild form. I have then taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to relieve me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

An Embarrassing Explanation. "Why do you charge me 25 cents when your sign says, 'First class hair cut, 15 cents?'" demanded the indignant customer. The small French barber shrugged his shoulders and lifted his eyebrows.

"Pardon, monsieur," he returned softly, "but it is not all who come to me that have the first class hair."

Collections. "My collection," said the numismaticist proudly, "is worth $10,000 and every coin genuine." "Mine," said the minister sadly, "is worth about $7.63 a Sunday, and I have to take my chances on the coins being good."—Overland Leader.

BEAU FIELDING.

He Was the Enigma of English Social Life in His Day.

Beau Fielding was a young man of fashion in the reign of William III. His house was sumptuously furnished, his hunters, backs and racers were of great value, and "he kept a table of princely hospitality." He had no ostensible source of income. All that was known of him was that he was the fifth son of Thomas Wilson, an impoverished gentleman of Leicestershire. Evelyn describes him as a very young man, "civil and good natured, but of no great force of character" and "very sober and of good fame." All attempts to discover his secret were vain. In his most careless hours of amusement he kept a strict guard over his tongue and left scandal to conjecture what it pleased.

He redeemed his father's estate and partitioned off his sisters and when remonstrated with on his extravagance replied that, however long his life should last, he would always have enough to live in the same way. Some said it was he who had robbed the Holland mail, for which another man had suffered; others that he depended upon the gambling table, though he never played for large sums. He was the enigma of social life till his career was cut short by a duel. His adversary was at that time a young man about town like himself, John Law, who afterward became the founder of the famous Mississippi scheme by which half of France was ruined. When the mysterious Beau died he left only a few pounds behind him and not a scrap of evidence to enlighten public curiosity.

HOT POTS OF HEBER.

The Curious Natural Formations Found in Utah.

Of ever increasing interest to natural curiosity seekers are the hot pots, about three miles from Heber City, Utah, on a branch line of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, running up through picturesque Provo canyon.

This region is a level plain, upon the surface of which arise in strange confusion numbers of conical shaped chimneys, the largest of them being all of fifty feet high, a hundred feet in diameter at the top and twice that at the base and containing in their dark depths immense volumes of water heated to a high temperature in the furnaces of the earth. The waters contain the usual chemical properties of thermal springs and are used for bathing and drinking with excellent effects.

These pots have evidently been formed by the slow deposition through countless centuries of the silica and soda which enter into the composition of the waters that once welled over the rim. The hot pots are found in the midst of cultivated fields and thriving orchards notwithstanding the peculiar rocky soil composition.

One of the marked peculiarities of the region is the hollow rumbling sound caused by carriages and horses as they move over the roadways for miles around. "Is there an enormous cavern just below the surface and will it ever cave in?" is the anxious inquiry of every visitor alarmed at the strange underground sounds—Exchange.

Sweet Cane From a Far Country.

It has been supposed that sugar cane was the "sweet cane from a far country," mentioned in Jeremiah vi, 20, and in Isaiah xlii, 24. According to Strabo, Neerebus, the admiral of Alexander the Great, describes a kind of "honey" from an Indian "reed" which was probably sugar cane. Europe seems to be indebted for the plant to the Saracens, who introduced it into Rhodes, Cyprus, Sicily, Crete and Spain in the ninth century. The crusaders of the twelfth century found it in Syria. The Spaniards and Portuguese carried it to Madeira and the Canaries in the fifteenth century, and on the discovery of America it was taken to the West Indies.—New York American.

Real American Aristocracy.

It was through the Declaration of Independence that we Americans acknowledge the eternal inequality of man, for by it we abolished a cut and dried aristocracy. We had seen little men artificially held up in high places and great men artificially held down in low places, and our own justice loving hearts abhorred this violence to human nature. "Let the best man win." That is America's word. That is true democracy. And true democracy and true aristocracy are one and the same thing—Owen Wister in "The Virginian."

Beacon Fires in China.

In China such beacon fires as spread the alarm of the Spanish armada through England used to be called to war. Many years ago the story goes, the emperor sat with a beautiful woman looking toward the beacon hills. She would like to see those waiting piles lighted, and upon her insistence the thing was done. The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the provinces, and troops came hurrying in from all sides. When the leaders learned that no danger menaced, that the fires were lighted to satisfy the whim of a woman, their wrath fed on their lost confidence, and with the actual call to arms the response was slow and unenthusiastic. It was a repetition of the old story in Webster's spelling book. "Wolf" had been cried too often.

Mike's Ignorance.

Mike—Why do them false eyes be made of glass, now?

Pat—Sure, and how else could they say throe 'em, ye thickhead!
